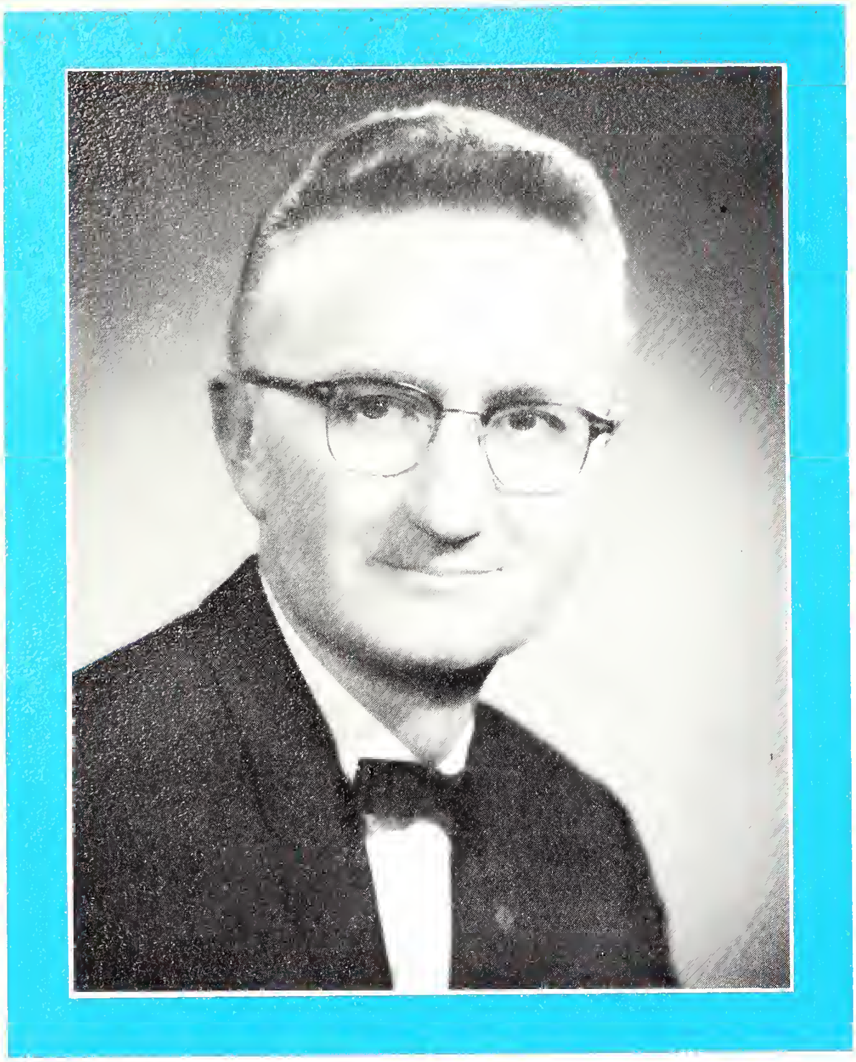
Foreword

The theme of the 1966 Catamount is mountains. The Mountain State offers the world's most beautiful setting—sparkling streams and springs, green forests, and the eternal mountains—for the path which winds before you. This path leads upward—up the challenging mountains that lie in your way. To reach the heights is your goal. The mountain path is filled with diversions which may distract the unwary or those of little endurance. But also to be found along the way are opportunities for adventure and enjoyment. There may be found staffs to aid in the climb, if a little effort is used to find and enlist these aids. The skillful climber will be able to do so. The heights will be reached—beginning with the Mountain of Learning—and before you will spread the broad horizons of life. The valleys you have followed; peaks you have reached; memorable views you have observed; friends you have passed along the way—all these, and more, we, the staff of the 1966 Catamount, hope you will find within these pages.



Dedicated To—

Dr. Allen E. Murphy

The Catamount staff is proud to dedicate the 1966 yearbook to you — our man of the year.

Having joined the faculty of Potomac State College in the fall of 1948, Dr. Murphy has taught, advised, befriended, chatted with, and inspired hundreds of students.

His colleagues esteem him as a capable and understanding teacher. His wife and three children know him as a devoted and loving husband and father. His friends recognize him as a congenial, thoughtful, and loyal associate.

Dr. Murphy is a member of the Executive Committee of Potomac State College. He has also served as adviser to Phi Kappa Omega Fraternity since its origin in 1949. Dedicated to the welfare of his church, he has been chairman of the Commission on Education and a member of the Board of Trustees of the First Methodist Church of Keyser for many years.

In the words of the poet Leigh Hunt, Allen Murphy is "... one that loves his fellowmen."

"... and tomorrow, I'll take them on a field trip."

President

For nearly two-thirds of a century Potomac State College has been educating young men and women to assume positions of leadership in the state and nation. The aspirations and performance of the college have surpassed the heights of the Appalachian peaks surrounding the institution.

As you review this pictorial record of the college in the years ahead, I hope that you will draw inspiration from memories of teachers and friends, happy and challenging experiences, and the atmosphere of an institution determined to grow above and beyond its mountain fastness.

Potomac State Inaugurates A New President

On April 8, 1965, Dr. Todd H. Bullard was inaugurated President of Potomac State College, succeeding President Ernest E. Church. Dr. Bullard is the third president of Potomac State as a junior college and the eighth head of the institution in its sixty-four year history.

The inauguration ceremonies were planned by a combined student-faculty committee. West Virginia Governor Hulett C. Smith and West Virginia University Board of Governors President Okey B. Glenn were among dignitaries attending the inauguration.

Homecoming

One of the biggest holidays of the year was Homecoming. Beginning with the traditional Homecoming Parade, the day was one of excitement for students and alumni alike. During halftime ceremonies at the Homecoming football game with Ferrum College, Queen Catamount XXVII, Miss Mary Lou McGee, was caped by Cadet Commander Steven Smith of the ROTC Battalion. Although the home team suffered a 14-0 defeat at the hands of the Panthers, the evening activities served to lift the spirits of the Potomac partisans. The reception in Friend Hall and the Homecoming Dance capped a day to be remembered.

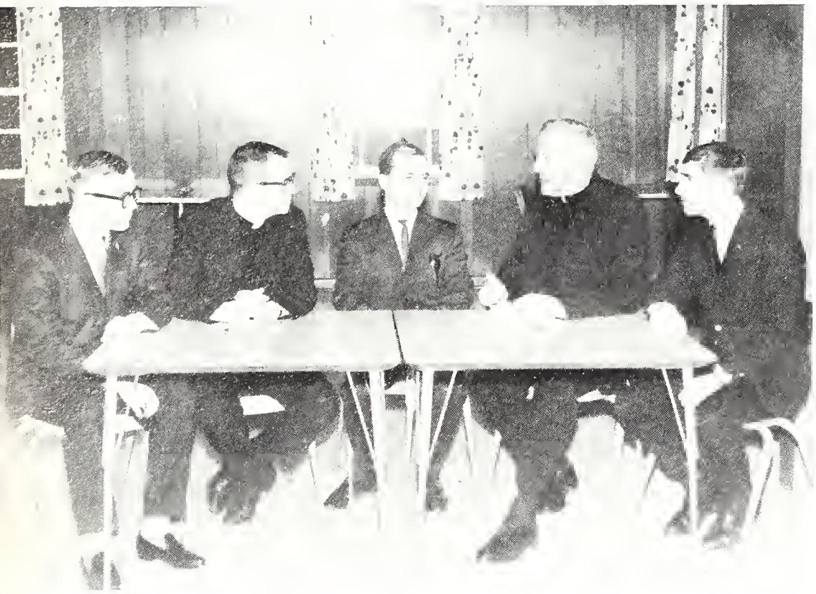
Spiritual Emphasis Seminars Present



Visiting Ministers Open Seminars.

The Spiritual Emphasis program is set aside each year to help focus the attention of the college community upon religious and ethical beliefs. Hopefully, this program will contribute to the continuing development of mature and responsible views of religion and ethics.

The program's format emphasizes free discussion rather than formal lectures. The general theme of the program was "Religion and Social Activism." The discussants dealt with the following aspects of the theme: "Religion and War," "Religion and Racial Discrimination," and "Religion and the Economic Order."

Parents' Day

October 23 was a big day for students of PSC as hundreds of parents came to visit. The day was activity packed as parents and students toured the campus, seeing the sights and conferring with instructors, attending a football game, a reception, a musical program, and a dance. This occasion acquainted parents with the college and faculty and did so in a lively and entertaining way.

The cheer rings out —"S-U-C-C-E-S-S!" — urging the team to victory. School spirit is a vital part of success, for it helps to have the students rooting for you. That is the purpose of our thuses-to instill a rousing school spirit and insure a capacity crowd to cheer the home team to victory. At thuses, freshmen learn the college yells and work up an enthusiastic spirit for the coming contests. It's all good fun—even if some have a martyred look—and the fun is long remembered as part of college life.

Potomac State Catamounts Football 1965 Season

"When Do I Go In?"

The Potomac State Catamounts wound up their 1965 football campaign with a 1-7 record. This unfruitful year was a drop from last year's also low slate of 2-5-1. Bainbridge Naval Academy invaded Stayman Field Sept. 18, and walked off with a 21-2 victory. State's first two points of the season came in the form of a touchback. However, the visitors broke loose in the second half for three touchdowns. The Catamounts lost their second encounter of the season to Chowan College, Sept. 25 on the home turf. By means of a series of short runs, Chowan swamped the locals in the first 35 minutes of the game. Later in the game, a visiting gridder scampered for a 95 yard touchdown to put the finishing touches on a 28-0 victory.

On Oct. 2, Shenandoah College tallied 13 points in the first quarter, and the Catamounts were never able to catch up, as they dropped their third consecutive decision of the year 20-7. The Cat's first touchdown of the year came on a 63 yard pass play. They then added their extra point on another pass. Ferrum College dealt the Loughmen their fourth setback of the year as they downed the Cats 14-0 to spoil the annual Homecoming game. Even though they lost, the State gridders deserved a lot of credit for trying as Ferrum was rated 16th among junior college football teams in the nation.

Montgomery Junior College of Takoma Park, Md., handed the Cats their worst loss of the season by a score of 56-0. The Loughmen were definitely off the mark that day; three of Montgomery's touchdowns came on pass interceptions. Before an estimated crowd of 1,000, the Tigers of Wesley College gave the Cats their sixth straight loss of the year, on Oct. 23. State threatened many times during the game, but unsuccessfully. Meanwhile, Wesley racked up 20 points in our last home game of the season.

Oct. 30 proved to be a big day for the locals as they won their first game of the season and were doubly elated because it was their first in the Tri-State Junior College Conference. This was Potomac's first victory since the next-to-last game of the 1964 season. Five different men carried the ball into paydirt for State as they rolled over Harford College by a score of 40-0. In the final game, the Cats went down before Baltimore Junior College, 14-0 on Nov. 6.

1965-1966 Basketball Season

The Potomac State Catamounts opened their 1965-66 basketball season on Nov. 29, against the cagers of Johnstown College. The 99-69 final score found the Cats on the short end of this non-conference tilt.

On Dec. 4, the Loughmen made their home debut and won their first conference game. In this battle with Catonsville, the locals won 92-84.

The Cats invaded the Altoona College hardcourt on Dec. 8 with a strong attack spearheaded by Tom Condron and Bill Thomas and came off with a 96-85 triumph.

The locals continued their streak as they rolled to a 80-66 win over the Trojans of Allegany Community College, Dec. 13. The Cats were down 6 points at the half but caught fire and moved into the lead to stay.

The Cats began a three game road jaunt by playing St. Mary's College on Dec. 16, and pulled off a 77-60 triumph.

Victory once again came to the locals on Dec. 17, as they continued their winning ways by knocking off Charles College 88-53. Action picked up in the second period and the Cats coasted to their fifth straight win of six games.

The locals wrapped up the successful road trip by thrashing Prince George College to the tune of 114-73. The Christmas break found the Cats in possession of a perfect 5-0 conference log and an impressive 6-1 overall.

Putting their six game win streak on the line, the locals came through in fine form, beating Johnstown Junior College, 78-66, Jan. 6, on the local floor.

The Cats were visited by Altoona College on Jan. 15, and sent the Pennsylvanians home with a 107-78 defeat.

The Catamounts scored their sixth Tri-State Conference victory on Jan. 21, when they hammered the Shenandoah quint 98-89.

On Jan. 24, the PS cagers swung into a three day road trip by squeezing by Essex Junior College with a slim margin of 86-84. Each team scored 38 fieldgoals, but the difference was at the charity stripe when the Cats got the extra edge.

The Catamount cagers won their eleventh straight victory and boosted their conference record to 8-0 by downing Harford Junior College 106-81 on the latter's hardwood on Jan. 25.

Bainbridge Naval Academy fell victim of the Catamounts on Jan. 26, on the Middies court. The local cagers came from behind in a close battle to preserve the winning streak; with a 67-65 final tally.

Jan. 29 was a black night when the Cats dropped an 86-78 decision to York Junior College before a sellout crowd. This marked the first loss for the PS quint since their first game of the season, and ended the long, hard fought 12 game streak.

Wesley College of Dover, Del., proved too much for the Catamounts as they fell to the tenth ranked junior college team in the nation on Feb. 4, by a score of 106-78.

The Cats had their claws clipped for the third consecutive time on Feb. 5, at Hagerstown, Md., by a score of 107-85. Potomac State came back in the second half to outscore the opponents, but it was not enough for victory.

On February 8, the Loughmen ventured to the rival city of Cumberland for a return match with the Trojans of Allegany Community College. The locals who opened the game with a fine floor performance, were up-ended by a score of 99-90.

Montgomery Junior College handed the Cats quint their fifth loss in a row on Feb. 11 in the PS gymnasium by the score of 98-93. Potomac kept pace with the visitors on field goals, but the difference came at the foul line.

On Feb. 15, the Cats won their second game of the season from the Shenandoah quint as they defeated them 93-71. Two days later, the PS five traveled to York, Pa., only to suffer a 79-66 setback from the Pennsylvanians.

In the final regular season game of the year the Catamounts played a brilliant second half to overcome a 23 point half-time deficit and defeated Baltimore 89-83.

In the tournament elimination game, Potomac State lost to Hagerstown, 99-91.

Legislative Meeting

The Student Council, which is under the supervision of the faculty, is the governing order of the Student Body. Its goals are to further school spirit and to achieve a better understanding between students and faculty. The organization manages many campus activities.

In September of each year, guides are provided by the Council to welcome and aid the incoming freshmen. Members assist with the sale of "beanies" and distribute the Freshman rules. During Freshman Week this year, a "mixer" was provided in order for the freshmen to meet each other and the sophomores.

The Student Legislature sponsored Homecoming activities by forming committees to plan the dance and the parade. Programs for the home football games were sold by members. In the fall, movies and informal dances were arranged for the Student Body's enjoyment. The Council purchased new uniforms for the cheerleaders. Final studies were made of the new constitution which was created last year.

The Preamble of the Constitution states that the functions of the Student Council are "to promote a common understanding, to provide for the orderly conduct of the affairs of the college, to elevate the standards of scholarship, and to increase school spirit."

Catamount—Our College Yearbook

The 1966 Catamount has been produced to provide a lasting record of your year at Potomac State College. We hope the visible memories that make up this twenty-eighth edition will find a special spot on your bookshelf.

To one who is not familiar with the planning, preparation and labor that are necessary to produce a college yearbook, the task may seem quite simple. Actually, long hours of planning and work are involved.

This year's Catamount began in April of last year with the conception of the first dozen pages that make up the opening. After the ideas had germinated through the summer months, the work began in earnest at Fall registration with the taking of student and faculty photographs and the sale of yearbooks. The editorial, business, and typing staffs then performed their respective tasks to make this yearbook a success.

This book is successful only if it aids you in recalling your hours of study, in class and out; the extra-curricular activities in which you participated; the special events and features of the year; and the friendships which grew on this campus.

The staff of the 1966 Catamount sincerely hopes that this yearbook will do all these things.

The Pasquino

Editorial Staff Works to Meet Deadline

The Pasquino, the college newspaper which is issued fortnightly, is completing forty-four years of continuous service to Potomac State not only in providing news of the campus to its many readers but also in serving as a laboratory for students majoring in journalism.

Its distinctive name, chosen in 1921, derives from the name of an ancient Greek statue, still extant in the city of Rome, which became a "talking statue" when people posted on it their comments on current affairs. They named the statue "Pasquino" about 1500 B.C. in honor of a deceased hunchbacked tailor by that name respected for his biting and amusing sarcasm. The staff of the Pasquino includes all students registered in journalism courses and a number of volunteers.

The newspaper has an average press run of 2,250 copies. Students' activity fees entitle them to receive the paper. Approximately 1,200 copies constitute the mailing list, which includes the sending of copies to parents of non-commuting students, alumni, numerous high schools and colleges both in and out of state, and to others interested in the college.

Potomac State's journalism majors are enabled to have a rich practical experience not only in writing for the newspaper but in makeup, as they are premitted in the composing room to assist when the Pasquino is prepared for printing at the News-Tribune plant.

The Pasquino sponsors annually the publication and sale of a Student-Faculty Directory. Each spring the staff has a Press Banquet, at which the guest speaker is invited from the ranks of the Fourth Estate.

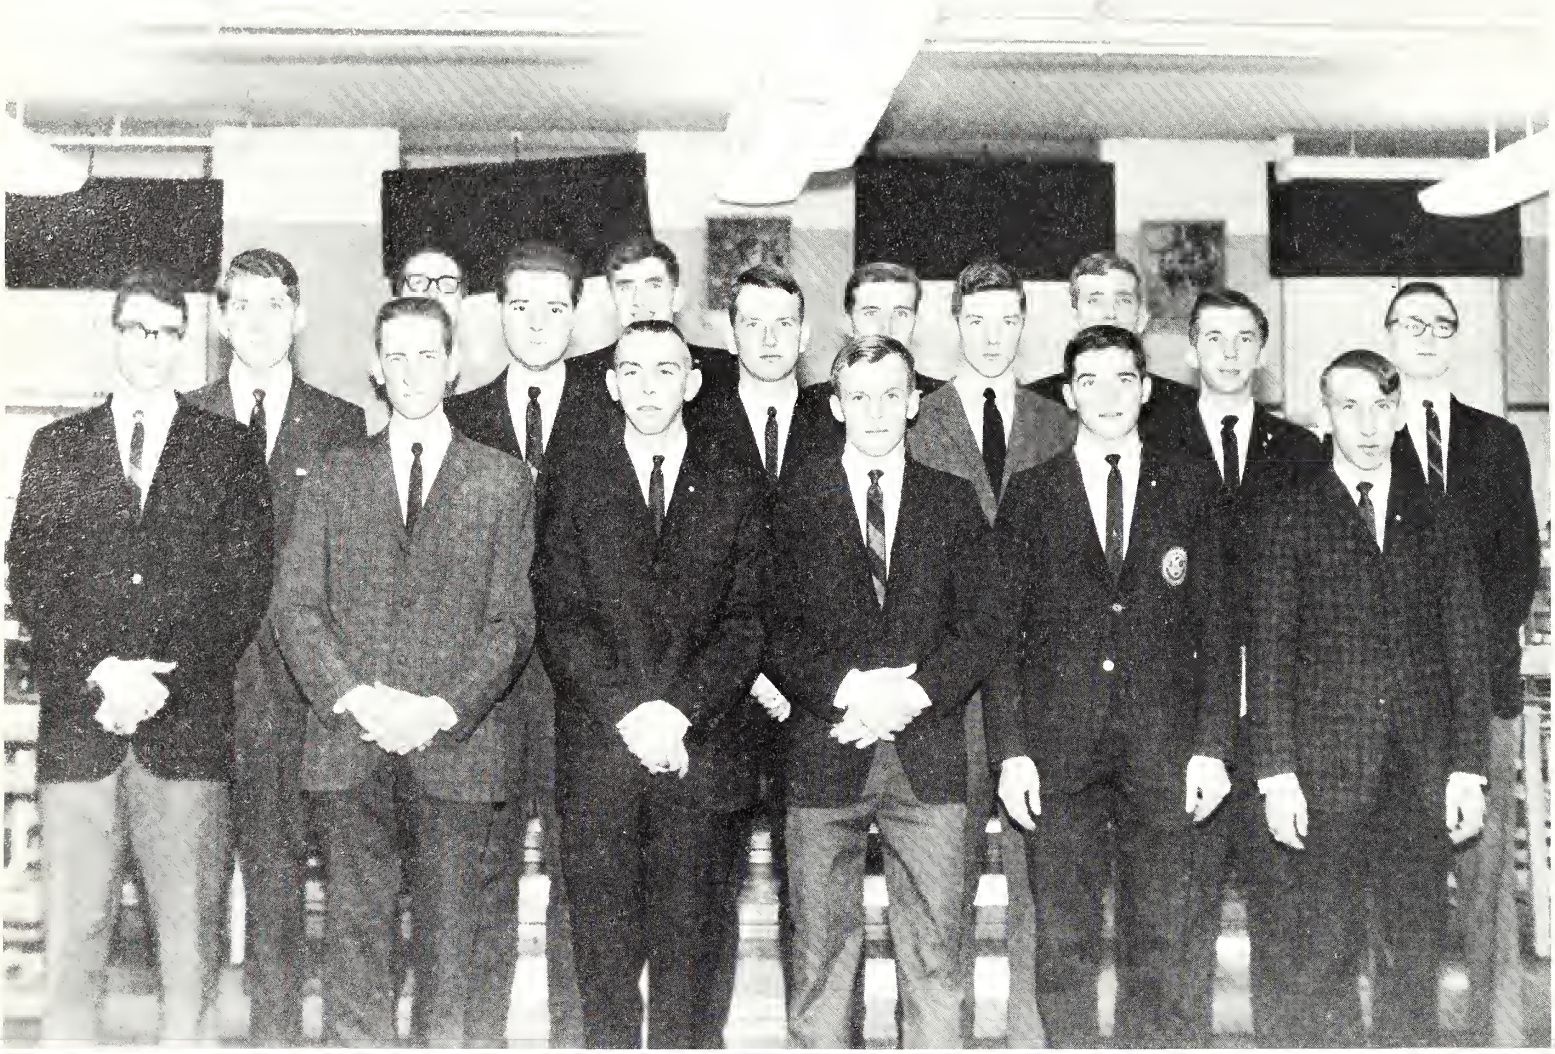
Circle K



The Circle K Club of Potomac State College is the only true service organization on campus. This organization is dedicated to the ideals of service to the college, and the community of Keyser. The club was established in 1952 and was issued certificate number six when Circle K became an international organization. The club is made up of young men of good character and scholastic standings, who work in the service of others. Their only return being the thanks and appreciation that comes from such work.

The club has had another active year, the major projects being the following: working at basketball and football games, assisting with Parents' Day, sponsoring the annual Homecoming Parade, bringing the Blood Mobile to campus, delivering student "survival kits" during semester examinations, and other such projects of service.

Agriculture Club

The Agriculture Club of Potomac State College was organized October 11, 1954, for the purpose of stimulating and bringing about a closer academic and social relationship between students majoring in the various phases of agriculture.

The Agriculture Club, in conjunction with the Home Economics Club, performs several activities throughout the year, such as an annual trip, a parliamentary procedure demonstration, a demonstration on etiquette, a Home Economics and Agriculture Club party, and a chicken barbecue.

One of the major accomplishments was the Agriculture Club and Home Economics Club float winning first place in the Homecoming parade for the third consecutive year.

As one of its objectives, the Agriculture Club sponsors an annual turkey shoot to stimulate campus activity.

Membership in the club is open to students majoring in Agricultural Education, General Agriculture, Veterinary Science, and Forestry.

Engineers Club

The Engineers Club is a campus organization composed of freshman and sophomore engineering majors at Potomac State College. It has been in existence since 1932 and provides for the student engineer a professional atmosphere to go along with his academic life on campus. Visiting professional engineers speak to the members, industrial films are shown at the meetings, demonstrations are given by visiting regional engineers, and trips are taken to industrial plants in the area. The organization's main purpose is to lend a professional atmosphere needed by the student engineers as a stepping stone for association with local, state, and national professional engineering societies when the student graduates in his particular field of engineering.

The Potomac State College Chapter of the College Section of the West Virginia and American Home Economics Association has as its guide the creed established by Ellen H. Richards, who was founder of Home Economics.

The Chapter this year actively participated in several Home Economics traditions such as selling mums for homecoming, giving a Christmas party for selected-needy children of the Keyser Elementary School age, taking an educational trip with the Agricultural Club and participating in the spring conference at Jackson's Mill.

The Club members also assisted in the ground breaking of a steering committee to aid the local Vista worker in tutoring youngsters who needed additional and individual scholastic attention. Each home economics major returned to her area high school between semesters and talked to the girls about the opportunities in home economics. Interesting programs such as a hair grooming lecture and instructions on flower arrangements were also arranged by the members.

The Christian Youth Fellowship is an organization which unites Protestant youth at Potomac State College and attempts to enrich their spiritual life by means of fellowship and recreation. Programs dealing with moral issues of interest to youth, and customs of various religious sects are presented at the meetings, held at the recreation room of Friend Hall each Monday evening. The faculty advisor is Mr. W. Earl Michael. He is assisted by Rev. Robert Smith, the representative of the local ministerial association.

The controversial book, Instead of Death, by William Stringfellow, was reviewed at the meetings. The organization also entered a float in the Homecoming parade, designed a Christmas display for the show case at the Student Center, co-sponsored the Spiritual Emphasis Seminars with the Newman Club, and conducted Pre-Easter Communion and worship services for Protestant students.

The Newman Club of Potomac State College is an organization of Catholic men and women on campus. The club is devoted to the strengthening of religious education and to instilling the desire to practice religion more fervently. The Newman Club participated in the clothing drive of the local Catholic Church, The Assumption. The club has been guided by the words of the Right Reverend John O'Connell, Spiritual Counselor of the club and Pastor of the Church of the Assumption, and Professor J. K. Burke, Faculty Advisor for Newman Club. The Newman Club co-sponsored the annual Spiritual Emphasis Week on campus.

The Women's

Reynolds Hall

An important factor of a young woman's successful adjustment to college living is a good relationship with other women on campus. The Women's Residence Association, which is composed of all the women living in Friend and Reynolds Halls, tries to create a friendly, cooperative atmosphere in the Women's Residence Halls. This governing body, which was established on December 7, 1944, works with the two Hall Councils to obtain higher living standards. The organization endeavors to emphasize the social and cultural aspects of college life. One tradition of the Women's Residence Association is the sponsoring of Christmas parties in Reynolds and Friend Halls. The W. R. A. is represented annually in the Homecoming Parade. This year Michaelangelo's "David," an eighteen inch antique bronze statue, was presented to the Potomac State College library as an in memoriam gift.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association of Potomac State College is an organization which promotes a feeling of sportsmanship among the young women of the college and helps to break the monotony of everyday academic schedule. This year the W.A.A. made artificial corsages for the Parents' Day celebration.

Potomac State College experienced a "first" when the Women's Athletic Association organized a Co-Recreation Night. Volleyball was the fare that evening with a mixed group of men and women students playing in several spirited contests. Co-Recreation Night was an experimental attempt to acquaint more students with the W.A.A. and were held during the school year.

When 250 points are achieved by a young woman in the club she receives an emblem on Recognition Day at the end of the spring semester. Five hundred points warrant a school sweater and the acquiring of leadership and sportsmanship is the goal of each member of the club. Miss Margaret E. Rafter, instructor, is the sponsor of the club.

The Potomac State 4-H Club, reorganized during 1964-65, is connected with the Mineral County Cooperative Extention Service of West Virginia University. The club was formed to provide an organization for social, educational, and service activities for former and present 4-H Club members and other students with a 4-H interest. To participate directly in the 4-H program; to develop leadership; and to provide an opportunity to continue in the program are the objectives of the organization.

The club fulfilled its goals by providing leadership for a newly-formed club in Piedmont which was without a leader. As was held last year, a charting conference was conducted in the spring as an on-campus activity. This conference not only benefited as a training session for 4-H'ers from five surrounding counties, but acquaints the visitors with the college.

The oldest cultural group on the campus is the Players, organized in 1919. This year a drama class was provided for students interested in training in any phase of the theater from acting to set construction, lighting and sound techniques and the art of stage make-up.

This year a melodrama "Egad, What A Cad", the group's first production of the year, was presented in an authentic cabaret setting in October. A three act comedy "The Doctor in Spite of Himself", by Moliere, was given in April. The reading of O'Neill's "The Long Voyage Home" was presented in May. The final production of the year was a Lollipop Theater presented by the cast for the children of Keyser. These productions were presented in the Downstairs Theater which was made from the old auditorium in the Administration Building. The theater will seat approximately eighty people. In this small theater are exhibits of placards from Broadway shows and autographed pictures sent to the players from prominent Broadway stars.

Potomac State supports a local chapter of Delta Psi Omega, the largest honor society in dramatics and our chapter is one of the 207 active chapters in the United States. The members currently enrolled in Cast N. 110, Delta Psi Omega are Brian Brosi, Carolyn Carvey, Jay Craig, Marlene Lyons, Diane Sirna, Elaine Welch, and Lynda Whittier.

Potomac State Concert Band

The Potomac State Concert Band is a credit course available to both men and women. Participation in the Concert Band enables students to continue their musical training. The band devotes its time to the study and performance of band literature of the highest quality. The Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Whitehill, played for the Freshman Convocation and presented a Christmas concert in the fall. In the spring, the band presented two concerts on the campus, made a one day tour to neighboring high schools, and played for the graduation exercises in May.

The Potomac State College State Band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Whitehill, affords the members experience in the field of dance music. Membership in this credit course is open to any student by audition. In addition to the regular music available for dance bands, this group varies its sound by using special arrangements by Mr. Whitehill and by using small combos and soloists. In the fall the Stage Band performed for the Parent's Day convocation and presented a concert at Moorefield, W. Va. In the spring the band performed at the Recognition Day Program, participated in two concerts and made the annual spring tour to neighboring high schools in conjunction with the Potomac State Singers.

NATIONAL GUARD ARMORY

The ROTC Marching Band is under the direction of Mr. Charles Whitehill. The ROTC military adviser in S. Sgt. Richard Y. Johnston. Band members may earn additional ROTC merits as well as college credit for participation. The Band is most active during the fall season when it contributes much to the spirit of the school by performing at the home football games. A highlight of this year's Homecoming game was a massed band in which the ROTC band performed five selections with the high school bands from Ridgeley and Keyser, W. Va. and Westernport, Md. In the fall the Marching Band participated in the Homecoming, Veteran's Day and Christmas Parades. In the spring the band provides music for the ROTC noon formations which culminate in the annual inspection and the President's Review.

Roth Military Honorary Society was formed in 1953 to represent the Reserve Officers Training Corps unit at Potomac State College. Colonel Samuel Roth, then Professor of Military Science at West Virginia University, was responsible for the ROTC unit at Potomac State.

Today the society stands as one of the most active organizations on the campus. Socially, ROTH annually sponsors the ROTC Rifle Team, the Fall Banquet, the Spring Cookout, a float in the Homecoming Parade and the highlight of the entire college social calendar, the Military Ball. The organization is furthermore responsible for the performance of ceremonial activities of a military nature in connection with Potomac State College activities and many local organizations.

The Society's chief objective is to honor outstanding ROTC students who have demonstrated the high qualities necessary for leadership and have maintained an exceptional military and academic standing. To be invited and accepted into ROTH, a student must attain a military science grade of "B" or better and an overall grade average of "C" or above. The distinctive ROTH colors, red and white, are displayed in the ribbon and fourragere worn by all members in addition to the ROTC uniform. Membership in ROTH Honorary Society is considered a scholastic achievement which is a status sought by all cadets and will as such inevitably carry on in the fine traditions characteristically sought by the group.

The Catamount Rifle Team, under the direction of Sfc. Joseph Q. Sanders, is sponsored by the ROTH Military Honorary Society. The objective of this organization is to encourage organized civilian marksmanship, with a view toward accurate shooting, proper care of firearms, and rules of safety. To be eligible for membership, one must meet the requirements listed under National Junior College Athletic Association Eligibility Rules. The team is affiliated with the National Rifle Association (NRA), where it participates in NRA rifle matches with various colleges. Sophomore members are awarded sweaters for firing the required number of matches; freshmen are given letters.

Panhellenic is the governing body of the Greek letter organizations. Its aim is to promote good fellowship and cooperation between the fraternities and sororities of the campus, to assist in every way in keeping up the spirit of this institution, and to maintain the highest ideals of life, character, and citizenship.

The eighteen representatives on the Panhellenic council meet regularly each month. Of primary importance to Panhellenic is the regulating and controlling of Rush Week, campus elections, and the time and place of holding any fraternity or sorority activity which affects the orderly conduct or reputation of Potomac State College.

The main goal of the Panhellenic council of this year is to promote better cooperation among fraternities and sororities that Potomac State College might have a more unified Student Body.

For many years the highest recognition given to scholarship and citizenship at Potomac State College has been election to membership in Sigma Phi Omega. This society was established in 1926, and through the years it has held an honored place on campus. It has preferred to maintain its original status as a local fraternity with its own ritual, insignia, and traditions.

Certain functions of the school year are associated with Sigma Phi Omega. As the society draws its membership from all campus groups, it is proper that it should sponsor the two convocations featuring Potomac State's organizations. The first of these, presented during Freshman Week, acquainted the new students with the campus organizations, their history, officers, and objectives. In the spring, shortly before the end of the academic year, Sigma Phi Omega will take the responsibility of again sponsoring the Recognition Day Convocation, on which occasion the campus activities will be reviewed, and awards and honors will be bestowed on outstanding scholars and leaders.

The selection, formal initiation of new members, and the banquet honoring all members and their parents will again be a feature of the spring semester.

Members of Sigma Phi Omega are deeply aware of the honor and responsibility which membership entails, and they strive to prove worthy of both by maintaining high standards of scholarship, participating in student activities, and co-operating with the college at all times.

Eta Upsilon Gamma

Eta Upsilon Gamma Sorority was founded at Christian College in Columbia, Missouri, in 1901. It is the oldest national junior college sorority in the National College Panhellenic. The aims of Eta Upsilon Gamma are to promote achievement, stimulate school spirit, and to broaden and enrich friendships.

To begin the fall season, the Gammas presented "Gamma Goes Broadway," a musical parody, as a prelude to the annual rush party which ultimately brought the sorority twenty-eight pledges. October, the month for Homecoming activities, found Mary Lou McGee reigning as Miss Catamount. In November, Bonnie Iman was elected to reign as Queen of the Harvest Swing, which was presented with our brother fraternity, Theta Sigma Chi. The Gammas also sponsored a "Work Week" as a means of raising money in November. Carolyn Carvey was elected by the Thetas to serve as a princess at the Panhellenic Christmas Dance. In December, all actives and pledges were guests at the Gamma Christmas party. Active participation in school government has always been a characteristic of Eta Upsilon Gamma, and this year has been no exception. Pam Surber served as President of the Sophomore Class; Nancy Hilke was Secretary of the Sophomore Class; and Carolyn Carvey served as Representative to the Student Council. Sally Swisher was Secretary of the Freshman Class, and Linda Miller served as Treasurer of the Freshman Class.

Theta Sigma Chi

Theta Sigma Chi Fraternity of Potomac State College was founded in 1922. The objective of the Fraternity are to stimulate a high school spirit, to develop a close feeling of friendship among its members, to build moral character, to promote top scholarship, and to strengthen Potomac State College.

Theta Sigma Chi Fraternity participates in many of the campus activities. In the early fall season it conducted the election, donated the roses, and aided in the ceremony for the Homecoming Queen, Miss Catamount, and her court, and also sponsored a float in the annual Homecoming Parade, titled from a famous quote of Winston Churchill, ". . . blood, sweat, and tears," which displayed the effort of the Potomac State College football players. Later in the fall, Thetas, along with their sister sorority, sponsored the only Greek letter dance of the season. The Harvest Swing, which honored Richard Cauffiel as King. Other fraternity functions included informal parties, two rush parties for the pledges, and several swimming and picnic outings in the warmer seasons of the college year.

Theta Sigma Chi holds the honor of the highest scholastic average of a Greek Letter fraternities for the 1964-65 school year, and has several of its members in various governing bodies on campus.

Theta Sigma Chi proudly serves and honors Potomac State College.

Kappa Delta Psi

Kappa Delta Psi is Potomac State's youngest sorority, having been founded on campus April 26, 1951. It has no national affiliations. The objectives of the sorority are to further scholarship, to promote high moral standards, to stimulate school spirit, and to develop a close feeling of friendship among its members and loyalty for Potomac State College.

Activities for 1965-66 began with informal gatherings at the home of Miss Anne Withers. The rush party was combination of formal and informal activities held in Davis Hall Lounge and the college cafeteria; a circus theme was followed. Kappa Delta Psi and the brother fraternity, Phi Kappa Omega, received a first place award for the float entered in the Homecoming Parade with the theme, "We will bury you." In October the sorority held a "mixer" for the brother fraternity. The sisters in the sorority bought clothing and food for a family in the Keyser area. Because the patronesses of the sorority have been most helpful, a Christmas Party was planned in their honor. Kappa Delta Psi and Phi Kappa Omega helped co-sponsor the first Panhellenic Christmas Dance. As the Christmas season came to a close, the melodic voices of the Kappa sisters were heard singing Christmas Carols on the campus. The sorority sisters went as a group to help cheer the basketball team on to a winning season. In the spring a Silver Tea was held in the Home Economics Department. Each person attending contributed silver coins which were used for a worthy cause. A Games Day was held for the entire student body in April.

Phi Kappa Omega

The Phi Kappa Omega Fraternity was organized at Potomac State College in 1949. As a leading campus organization, it strives to maintain the goals set by its early leaders; namely, to promote good scholarship, sound moral character, and a fraternal spirit among its members.

Phi Kappa Omega points with pride to some of the accomplishments of its members for the past year. Brother William Houck was a member of Sigma Phi Omega Honor Society. Brother Frank Guididas served as Vice-President of the Sophomore Class. Brother George Vande Langeryt acted as secretary to the college Rifle Team. Brothers James Isenhour and Tom Springer were selected as members of All Tri-State Conference football team.

In the fall, the fraternity held a hayride for its members and the members of its sister sorority, Kappa Delta Psi. Phi Kappa Omega, with the cooperation of its sister group, had a prize-winning float in the Homecoming Parade.

The traditional Easter Ball was again a highlight of the year's activities. The social season ended with the annual spring picnic.

Sigma Iota Chi

Sigma Iota Chi Sorority was founded in 1903 by Greer Duncan and is now the largest National Junior College Sorority in the United States. The Epsilon Chapter at Potomac State was established in 1923. The purpose of this sorority is to perfect and in our everyday lives carry out the meaning of the word sisterhood. Sigma Iota Chi stands for unity, love, and truth.

In the early fall, the returning Sigmas began the year with an informal weiner roast at the park. In October, the Sigmas had a successful semi-formal rush party at the Heritage House, which brought 28 pledges into the sorority. In early November, an informal get acquainted party was held with Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity. Also in November a joint hayride with the Phi Sigs was held. A Sigma Salute Day was held on which we saluted the 1965 Catamount football squad by having each girl wear a player's number and name.

On the 12th of February, Sigma Iota Chi and Phi Sigma Nu jointly sponsored the annual Sigma Sweetheart Ball.

Sigmas of significance were: Wilma Toth, Maid of Honor to Miss Catamount; Paula Cuff, Princess at the Panhellenic Christmas Ball; Diane DiUbaldo, Princess at the Military Ball; Pamela Kessler, President WAA; Connie Reese, Treasurer of Home Economics Club; and Barbara Buchan, Secretary of WAA.

Phi Sigma Nu

Phi Sigma Nu, founded in 1922, has been an outstanding social fraternity at Potomac State College. The fraternity holds membership in the National College Panhellanic and is designated as Beta Chapter of the National Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Phi Sigma Nu began a successful year by entering a float in the Homecoming parade. The float was selected for a first prize. Shortly after Homecoming an informal rush party was held for prospective pledges. Refreshments and entertainment were provided, and the party brought seventeen pledges to the fraternity.

With the cooperation of its sister sorority, Sigma Iota Chi, the fraternity held a highly successful hayride on November 19. At the Sigma Christmas Dance held December 11, Paula Cuff and Brother John Crane were among the royalty. On February 12, the fraternity and sorority jointly sponsored the traditional Sweetheart Ball.

Throughout the year, the fraternity held a number of informal parties, entertaining the pledges, the Sigma Iota Chi members and others. At the end of the year, the annual fraternity picnic was held with the sister sorority, and the annual banquet honoring the sophomore members of the fraternity closed out the season's activities.

Phi Sigma Nu demands high moral standards, individual development of character, leadership, and scholastic achievement of its members as well as loyalty and support for the college. These qualities are exemplified by the following brothers who hold high campus positions: Steve Smith, President of the Student Body and ROTC Cadet Battalion Commander; and Lee Martin, President of the Freshman Class.
